VIP Baby rockers are a wonderful and often versatile item to soothe and calm baby. Especially helpful in the early days, they can provide a safe place for your little one to rest while you grab a well-deserved cuppa or a bite to eat. However, you don't want to be using a rocker that could be potentially dangerous. Read on to ensure that you don't have one of these recalled rocking sleepers. What brands and models are recalled? The products have been sold nationally from 1 March 2013 - 1 March 2019 at the following stores: at Catch.com.au, Deals Direct, Gray (NSW) Pty Ltd, KG Electronics, Kogan, Target Australia and Toys R Us Australia. SKU numbers recalled: 10148, 10380, 10568, 10729, 10872, 11063, 11357, 11429, 60130, 60131, 60163, 60327, and 60331. Under the Ingenuity Brand, the following rocking sleepers have been recalled: Moonlight Rocking Sleeper Cuddle Giraffe Moonlight Rocking Sleeper Cuddle Lion Moonlight Rocking Sleeper Lullaby Lamb Moonlight Rocking Sleeper Zoo Zoo Zebra Soothing Light Rocking Sleeper Vesper Rock N' Soothe Sleeper Dayton Rock N' Soothe Sleeper Moxley Dream Comfort Automatic Rocking Sleeper Braden Moonlight Rocking Sleeper Deluxe Emerson The recall affects nearly 700,000 products sold under brands such as Bright Starts, Ingenuity and Disney Baby. Kids2, also known as Kids II, introduced rocking sleepers in March 2012. Since then, five infant deaths have occurred "after the infants rolled from their back to their stomach while unrestrained, or under other circumstances." The sleepers were sold by major retailers including Walmart, Target and Toys "R" Us, according to the announcement from the US Consumer Product Safety Commission. Parents should immediately stop using the Kids2 sleepers and contact Kids2 toll-free at 1-866-869-7954 or www.kids2.com for a refund or a voucher. The announcement comes on the heels of a similar recall of Fisher-Price Rock 'n Play sleepers after the popular product was linked to more than 30 infant deaths in 10 years. That recall affected about 4.7 million sleepers, officials said. The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends placing babies to sleep on their backs on a firm sleep surface such as a crib or a bassinet with a tight-fitting sheet. The academy also recommends avoiding the use of soft bedding, as well as any inclined sleep products that require restraining a baby. CNN's Nicole Chavez contributed to this report. Kids II announced Friday that it is recalling nearly 700,000 inclined baby sleepers sold under a variety of different brand names and models after reports of five infants dying. The recall comes two weeks after Fisher-Price issued a voluntary recall of 4.7 million Rock 'n Play sleepers that have been tied to at least 30 deaths. "Since the 2012 product introduction, five infant fatalities have occurred in the Kids II Rocking Sleepers, after the infants rolled from their back to their stomach while unrestrained, or under other circumstances," according to the recall notice posted on the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission website. The Kids II sleepers were sold at major retailers including Walmart, Target and Toys R Us and online from March 2012 through April 26 for approximately $40 to $80. The recalled sleepers were sold under Ingenuity, Bright Starts, Disney Baby and DreamComfort brands. Some products were previously discontinued and not being sold in stores including Bright Starts and Disney Baby sleepers. Consumers should immediately stop using the product and contact Kids II for a refund or voucher. The Kids II recall also comes after a Consumer Reports investigation found at least 30 deaths with Fisher-Price Rock 'n Play. The magazine reported four deaths tied to Kids II products in an April 11 report. "How many times will we see government and industry move too slow to prevent unnecessary tragedy?" said Marta Tellado, Consumer Reports president and CEO, in a statement Friday. "When products are linked to deaths, it is inexcusable to not inform the public immediately." For more information, consumers can call Kids II 1-866-869-7954 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. ET Monday through Friday or visit www.kids2.com/recalls. Recalled sleepers
